

Wadsworth Atheneum Museum of Art

Uncommon Legacy

Foreword by Thomas J. Loughman

ISBN	9781785511066
Publisher	Scala Arts & Heritage Publishers
Binding	Paperback / softback
Territory	World
Size	250 mm x 210 mm
Pages	168 Pages
Illustrations	120 color
Price	£12.95

- The first book in many years to encapsulate the breadth of the Wadsworth Atheneum's collection, which spans 5,000 years of European and American art
- Features works by world-famous artists such as Caravaggio, Dalí, Fra Angelico, Gauguin, Sol LeWitt and Georgia O'Keeffe
- Stunningly designed and illustrated with all-new colour photography

Founded in 1842 by Daniel Wadsworth, the Wadsworth Atheneum Museum of Art houses collections of nearly 50,000 works of art, spanning 5,000 years and embracing European art from antiquity through to Modernism as well as American art from the 1600s to today. Highlights include works by Caravaggio, Frederic Edwin Church, Salvador Dalí, Fra Angelico, Paul Gauguin, Sol LeWitt, Georgia O'Keeffe, Robert Rauschenberg and Kara Walker. This fully illustrated book is the first in many years to encapsulate the breadth of this prestigious collection, which has recently been re-presented in strikingly refurbished and reinstalled galleries. Follow @TheWadsworth on Twitter (9,760 followers).

Thomas J. Loughman is the Director and CEO of the Wadsworth Atheneum Museum of Art.